POLITICAL PARADE

By CLEM WHITAKER

Party campaign strategists as they prepare for the 1944 elections, are running smack up against the hard fact that the American electorate has undergone sweeping changes since the war began, with the result that many new hazards have been injected into the always hazardous game of politics.

The most obvious change, of course, is that almost all of the Nation's younger voters are in the armed forces, or will be there long before election day — and relatively few are expected to make use of the absentee ballot, no matter how steamed up the party bosses may get about the matter.

There are approximately 7,500,000 men under arms at the present time, with 3,500,000 more scheduled to be mustered in—and while some are under voting age, the great majority would have the right to vote under normal conditions, but probably won't vote during 1944. That factor is a decisive disadvantage for the Democrats, as the registration of younger voters has been proportionately higher in the Democratic Party than in the GOP.

While the Democrats still hold a hefty lead over the Republicans in registration totals, that disparity will also be offset to some extent by the fact that many more women than men will go to the polls next year. And the Republican Party numbers more women members than men, with the reverse true in the Democratic Party. For the first time in the country's history, there were more women voters than men in congressional elections last fall—and while there were other factors contributing to the debacle, the Democrats took a terrific shellacking. In California, too, the women's vote was admittedly a big aid to Earl Warren last year in overcoming the million registration advantage held by the Democrats, and in enabling him to defeat Democratic Culbert L. Olson in the hotly fought race for Governor.

Women cast about 53 per cent of the total vote in last year's elections. Next year, it is expected they will represent from 57 to 60 per cent of the vote total, with clear-cut dominance in every state in the Nation.

Of lesser importance, but not to be lightly discounted, is the fact that farmers will play a proportionately greater part in the elections next year, due to the policy of draft deferment for farmers now in effect. And just as women are generally more conservative in their voting than men, farmers are more conservative than city voters. Also adding to the likelihood of a more conservative trend at the polls in '44 is the fact that war industries are paying boom wages.

These changes in the body politic, for the most part, seem to favor the GOP—and to nullify much of the Democratic edge in registration. The Democrats, on the other hand, will undoubtedly seek to make capital of the American people's normal disinclination to swap horses in the middle of the stream.

Cost Per Pupil In High School District Is Low

Current costs per pupil in the Campbell Union High school district averaged $156.48 per pupil for each of the 745 pupils in average daily attendance in 1941-42, study of expenditures for current purposes in the larger high school districts in California, made public today by California Taxpayers' association, shows.

The total current expenditure per pupil for the district was thirty-first from the highest for districts with from 501 to 1,000 average daily attendance teaching grades nine to twelve. Median or midpoint expenditure per pupil for total current purposes for high school districts in this group was $177.02.

Here's How

Youths who can raise good mustaches ought to raise them; those who can't raise good ones should go clean-shaven. That's how to regulate fashions.

Veva Nicholls Is Bride of Dean Chamberlin

A wedding which was arranged on a few hours notice, but which followed an engagement of many months, took place last evening at quarter of eight in the Sunday school room of the Methodist church, uniting Tech. Sgt. Dean R. Chamberlin and Veva T. Nicholls.

The service was performed by the Rev. Donald H. Baldwin before an altar of white gladioli and Shasta daisies illumined with artistic lighting.

The bride was attractive in a military styled suit that was very effective with the grom's uniform.

Owing to the short time for arrangements, only a few relatives were present and the young people left immediately to spend the following twenty-four hours together, as the groom leaves this evening on his return to Carlsbad, New Mexico.

Mrs. Chamberlin will remain here for the present as her husband, who was recently upped to technical sergeant, anticipates a transfer to another post before long.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Nicholls of West Campbell avenue, and a graduate of the Campbell High school, a proficient musician and office employee.

The benedict is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Chamberlin of Chico, a graduate of the Chico State college and when entering the service was a member of the Campbell High school faculty.

Dr. Emil Mrak Is Speaker at Conference

Dr. Emil M. Mrak, assistant professor of fruit technology at the University of California, a former Campbell boy, discussed dehydration before representatives of 17 state experiment stations at a recent conference at the Western Regional Research Laboratory.

He reported that the War Production Board has ordered that no raisin grapes be made into wine or shipped fresh, but more than a quarter million tons will be dehydrated where drying conditions are poor. Much more of other fruits must also be dehydrated or spoil for lack of canning tin.

However, dehydration is not a cure-all for the problem of presenvation of food, Dr. Mrak maintained. Dehydrated foods are perishable and may undergo deterioration. Increase of the sulfur dioxide content, and reduction of the moisture content, lessens the spoilage due to fermentation; fumigation, vigilance, and correct packaging reduces the damage done by insects.

There is a big future for dehydration, especially in the fruit industry, Dr. Mrak declared. Dehydrated fruit is cleaner than sun-dried, and retention of vitamins, especially A. and C, is better.

Kiwanians Hear Henry Buell at Tuesday Meeting

Campbell Kiwanians were told some of the outstanding points of interest in the "Activities of the Pacific Gas and Electric company in War Time" by Henry Buell at their meeting Tuesday.

He explained the transmission of power in this area in which there are over 40 substations. He stated that in addition there are also steam plants coordinating to furnish steady power.

"Electricity must be flexible to accommodate variable loads," he said. "In the matter of materials the company is conserving as far as possible vital war materials by using substitutes, although they are not as satisfactory."

Another feature emphasized by the speaker was the importance of personnel and that they are always on the alert to repair or expedite service.

He had with him several technical devices which were viewed by the club members.

Dr. W. R. Morgan presided for this occasion.

Maurice Moore and Joe McKinnon were regular visitors.

Next week the Los Gatos club will meet here for an inter-club meeting at which Katherine Kerry, home economist of the sugar beet industry will speak on "Can Men Cook—And How!" W. H. Van Dyke will present the speaker.

MEMORIAL DAY, 1943

On Memorial Day of 1943, many a poignant Memorial Day will be in the making. On the very day honoring those who have died before in the service of their country, more Americans will die to keep America free. The new wreaths that history is weaving for Memorial Days to come will be many, before that freedom is assured.

Thus, in a sense, Memorial Day this year is far more than a day of remembrance. It is also a day of action and a day of anticipation, when past, present and future merge. On the day our dead heroes are commemorated while our living heroes die, those of us who are not offering our lives may look into the future that is being bought so dearly, and double our own contribution—whatever it is—toward that future's freedom, security and peace. We may be sure that—whatever it is—our contribution is not enough.

FIRE: FIFTH COLUMN

Flames in the forest—a beacon to our lurking enemy! Pall of smoke—sabotage to our protective air and sea patrol!

Fighting of fires — drain of needed manpower! Burning of trees—wastage of critical war materials!

These are the reasons why California's second wartime fire prevention campaign opened last week, to continue throughout the fire season.

Californians may now join the new branch of Civilian Defense, the Forest Fire Fighters Service.

Civilians may participate in the battle to prevent fire by preaching precaution and practicing caution. Civilians may participate in the battle to reduce fire by building up a reserve of behind-the-line specialists to help the fire protection agencies in emergency. Every patriotic Californian has an individual responsibility this year to his state and nation to defeat the Fifth Column—Fire.

"GIVE ME LIBERTY"

The influence of great thoughts aptly expressed, outlives time, tide, and the forgetfulness of men. On May 29, we celebrate the birthday of a great American, Patrick Henry,whom most of us know as the man who said, "Give me liberty. . . " And it is not so far wrong to associate the words with the character. The true metal of the man rings in them.

Patrick Henry was a radical! And it is interesting to note how often historic utterances are based on radical attitudes. Radical is a word Americans have come to shun largely because it is misused! Its real meaning is "fundamental." Patrick Henry was a radical because he took a strong stand for the fundamental rights of mankind. His radicalism pushed on needed reforms in the early hours of the nation's development. His resistance to imperialism helped jog the nation into Revolution.

Too often radicalism is taken to mean fanaticism, based not on fundamental justice, but on thin-spun theories bandied about by discontented persons. Most often these propagate in the thoughts of youth before it has grown into ability to make sound judgments.

Patrick Henry was not a fanatic. He was a son of the common people who had a natural talent for perceiving fundamental causes. That made him an orator and statesman whom the world will never forget. Down the centuries ring his deathless words—"As for me, give me liberty, or give me death."

SABOTAGE ON THE WAY!

The FBI doesn't care how many thousands of false tips it receives from suspicious citizens on possible sabotage—if only it receives the one small link needed for the net that traps a saboteur.

And saboteurs are expected.

Calling on every man, woman and child, for "constant watchfulness," J. Edgar Hoover, FBI chief, told the nation recently that a newly trained class of Germans highly educated in wartime sabotage shortly will be released from Berlin. Some will be directed to the United States.

Nobody enjoys playing the part of informer. But nobody enjoys either the prospect of war plants in ruins, shipyards wrecked, refineries expolded, troop trains demolished, bridges dynamited, aviation plants blown up or American workmen murdered. The alternative is plain. The smallest suspicious action is worth reporting, says the FBI, again cautioning the amateur sleuth against trying to follow his own clues, thereby warning the foreign agent and losing him.

The department's plea for aid from the public undoubtedly is bringing a deluge of unfounded reports from over-zealous thousands. But if that is the way sabotage is prevented and enemy saboteurs brought to justice, let us all be eternally watchful and unafraid to reveal to the proper authorities whatever seems suspicious or possibly dangerous to the war effort.

CLEANING UP THE ALEUTIANS

We who live on the Pacific war front, and who are fully aware that the Japs would be willing to pay almost any price in men and aircraft, to bomb our cities and cripple our war industries, have particular reason to rejoice that the job of cleaning up the Aleutians is progressing satisfactorily.

Since they made their first landings on the fog-shrouded, storm-swept islands, it has been clearly evident that the Jap high command looked on Attu and Kiska as stepping stones to conquest of not only Alaska, but the Pacific Coast. And we all owe a great debt of gratitude to the men of the Alaskan Bomber Command, who first knocked the Japs well laid plans askew, and now to the splendid men of our Army and Navy who are braving both murderous gunfire and murderous weather to retake the Aleutians and drive the Nip invasion forces into the sea.

BANE OF EXISTENCE?

Do you know who worked out the ration point system? Most of the names of the big-wigs in Washington who have curtailed and restricted us are well-known—but the name of Franke Bane has been largely unpublicized.

With speed and smoothness, Mr. Bane, a native of Virginia, put autos, typwriters, sugar, shoes, and coffee on the "restricted items list." He is Executive-Director of the Council of State Governments. Since rationing, he has become a Washington-Chicago commuter. Those who know him best say he is a "lot of fun," generous and kindly, and those who know his quick work in establishing rationing, feel he deserves a place in the hall of fame.

NO GLAMOR, JUST GRIND

Rate of resignations from Washington clerical posts has been high. So the personnel section sent out questionnaires to determine the cause of frustrations which sent America's girls back to the home town after a try at Washington. Main cause seems to be the maleless state of the city, together with living conditions. The girls found out soon enough that they had been summoned to work, not float about at soirees.. Besides, soirees are being frowned upon as lacking in austerity, these days!

FAIR WARNING
... before you board the Train!

Train travel is different in wartime. Nowadays S. P. trains are generally crowded, often late, and some cars aren't bright and shiny like they used to be. You may have to wait quite a while to get into the dining car on some trains.

The reason is—our war job!

Equipment, including dining cars, must be diverted constantly for military use. Troop trains and war freights often move over our lines on emergency schedules to which regular service must be adapted. The need for cars is so pressing that it is often impossible to take them out of service for renovation and overhaul.

We are short of cars, locomotives, manpower—but we're putting first things first and pushing the war trains through. After the war is won, S. P. hopes to make up to you for today's uncomfortable train travel. Meantime we suggest you follow this . . .

Wartime Traveler's Guide

1. Unless your train trip is really essential please don't make it.
2. If you must travel, do so on Tuesdays or Wednesdays or Thursdays. Avoid week-ends—that's when our trains are most crowded.
3. Cancel space reservations promptly if your plans change. Train space is too precious nowadays to go unused.
4. Travel light—take with you on the train only baggage you'll need on the train. Check other baggage at least a day in advance.
5. Help stretch available train accommodations by buying just the space you really need—no more, no less. Share your bedroom, compartment or drawing room with a friend.
6. Eat before you board the train if possible. For many trains it may be well to bring your lunch or buy a box lunch (for lunch or any meal).
7. If you eat in the dining car, please remember other folks are waiting. No need to bolt your meal—but please don't linger over it.

THE BOOK MARK

by marty

"Father and Glorious Descendant" by Pardee Lowe.

Pardee Lowe is a Chinese, born in America, of parents who came from China. "I strongly suspect that my father's life is a fraud. But if it is, it is a magnificent one. Nor, were this proved true, would it alter my affection and respect for him. I still would be, as I am now, proud and happy that he practised such a glorious deception on the land he loved, America."

"Never forget," said Father, "without the rain of generosity, no friendship blooms." But Father was generous and Father had friends — many friends, both in and out of San Francisco's Chinatown.

The author, Pardee Lowe, whose Christian name is Glorious Descendant, has written this book about his father, and his grandfather and various other members of his family, including himself. It is a mellow, soft and sparkling picture of a Chinese merchant, adored and feared by his family, admired by Occidental and Chinese businessmen. It is also a picture of America as it appears to a young Chinese gentleman whose sense of values has been tempered in the mill of racial prejudice. Nevertheless there is no bitterness. There is only tolerance, understanding, wisdom and humor.

Pardee Lowe worked his way through Stanford University, and later graduated from Harvard School of Business Administration. In this book he has blended the sometimes conflicting streams of Chinese and American thought, and emerged with a courageous and inspired outlook on life. There is no question, he has paved the way for a better and stronger understanding between America and China without preaching about it.

Throughout the volume the author's wit and humor sparkles like fresh falling water from the skies. There are drama and character at every turn, from Stepmother and her love of Chinese feasts to Grandfather and his method of curing illness with wildcat broth.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

From the Campus Echo

Speakers Chosen For Graduation

Dan Clark, Marie Lobrovich, Carl Field, Betty Hilton and Ernest Esch are to be the speakers at the graduation exercises on June 11, Mrs. Lillian Rae announced recently.

Carl Field, Betty Hilton and Ernest Esch spoke on the P.-T. A. panel recently. Carl is president of the senior class, and Ernest is student body president. Marie Lobrovich is secretary of the senior class, and last semester she was commissioner of school affairs. Dan Clark was student body president the first semester.

General theme for the speeches is "We Accept the Challenge."

Musical numbers will be presented by the band, a capella choir, and by talented members of the class.

Tank Ride Awaits Class of the Year

Friday, May 28, some second period class will be out riding in some kind of tank. After figures for this morning's stamp and bond sales are added to those for the entire year, the group that has brought in the most money during the past nine months will be named Class of the Year. That class will have the unusual opportunity of going for a jaunt in one of Uncle Sam's vehicles of war. Exact details were unavailable as Campus Echo went to press. .

Total sales for last week brought in $2592.30, enough to buy two and a half more jeeps. Miss Gladys Hall's class was first with a per capita intake of $43.38; Ralph E. Noddin's room second with $36.74 average; and Miss Frances Parks' third with $23.91.

On May 12 sales fell to $705.05, the lowest figure since the jeep drive opened.

Four Buccaneers Go to Track Meet

Four Campbell trackmen, with Coach Walter Hill, went to Palo Alto Saturday, May 15, to compete in the N. C. S. meet. Schools from all over the bay area were represented there, and the boys saw a lot of stiff competition. Those who made the trip to Stanford were Don Hutchison, Floyd Williamson, Roy Van Gorkom and Bill Harrison.

Hutchison, who has turned in some good work this season, took third place in his event—the broad jump. Van Gorkom took fifth place in the 100 and 220 dashes. This record was very good, according to Coach Walter Hill, since Roy was competing with the best high school sprinters in Northern California, and it was especially good since he competed in five races during the day.

Williamson was doing well when he cleared the pole vault at 10 feet but had to drop out after his first trial at 10.6 because of a sore leg.

Harrison ran the 440, winning seventh place among the twelve boys participating in the event.

Twenty Trackmen Will Go to State Friday Afternoon

Coach Walter Hill plans to take twenty boys to Spartan Stadium, San Jose State, Friday afternoon for the track meet. Schools that were members of the old Santa Clara Valley Athletic League will participate. This meet will end the season for Campbell trackmen, who have built up a trackmen, who have built up a fine record this season and who will no doubt add laurels to it Friday.

When Campus Echo went to press, Coach Hill was not ready to name the boys whom he will choose to represent Campbell, but he plans to take ten A division fellows and ten B's, who will enter both track and field events.

Nurse from Bataan Speaks to Girls

Sixteen girls went last week with Mrs.. Alfreda Runge to hear Lt. Beth Veley, San Jose, tell of her experiences on Bataan and Corrigedor.

In her talk at Roosevelt Junior High school Lt. Veley told of many harrowing experiences on the battlefield, of eating horse and monkey meat, of being unable to feed the wounded because of lack of food, of finally being taken to Australia in a submarine. The nurse also told of happier days when her party reached New York, where they were given the keys to the city. She also visited Washington D. C. before coming to her home in San Jose.

Those who heard the talk were Carol Weeks, Jean Hoff, Helen Nelson, Betty Hilton, Genevieve Gonzales, Helen Sandell, Madeline Gonzales, Barbara Broadbent, Helen Matich, Bernice Furtado, Marjorie Sanderson, Iva Barnett, Louise Howes, Betty Morrill, Alice Hedegard, and Mable Allen.

Morgan and Koerner Win Singles Championships

Kerlin Morgan and John Koerner won the first and second singles championships when netmen from the valley schools came to Campbell for a tournament on May 14.

Schools attending the meet were Los Gatos, Mt. View, Gilroy, Live Oak, Lincoln, Santa Clara, and Campbell.

Bob Barry and George Gerace of Mt. View won the title in the doubles matches. Campbell players in the doubles were Dan Clark, Charles Reese and Bob Magnuson.

This was the last tournament of the season for Coach Ralph Noddin's racket men.

Art Jacobson Honored with "C" Award

Art Jacobson yesterday was awarded the gold "C", emblem of merit in scholarship, athletic ability, and service, that is given each year to a senior boy. The award is made annually by Graham Peake, a graduate of Campbell High in 1923. The outstanding boy is chosen by a faculty committee.

Mr. Peake was here to make the award and to speak to students about his experiences as staff officer in the U. S. Merchant Marine. He told of the zig-zag trip on the Pacific to Samoa and on to New Caledonia, which he referred to as "a paradise surrounded by reefs and rich in natural resources."

In discussing the war he urged boys who enter the service to cherish home ties and to keep the principles that will make for a clean happy life when they return.

Members of the Scholarship Federation are in San Francisco today to attend the matinee performance of Gertrude Lawrence in "Lady in the Dark." The forenoon period will be spent in visiting the radio studios and some of the points of interest in San Francisco. The students, accompanied by Miss Eunice Reader, went up to the city by Southern Pacific train.

Girls' League Holds Last Meeting of Year

The last Girls' League meeting for this year was held last Thursday, May 20. The main purpose of the meeting was to present the nominees for the Girls' League offices for next year. Bernice Bernardasci is the only candidate for president, all other candidates having been disqualified. Running for vice-president are Betty Green, Lorraine Mocedo and Beatrice Hohman. The candidates for secretary are Gayle Smith, Royce Root and Jean Robinson.

The meeting was continued by the presentation of a Latin American program. Reba Fryer, accompanied by Nina Page, sang two songs; Betty Jurras played two piano solos; Ruth Cousins and Lois Frisch sang a Spanish number; and Jocelyn Capp did a Sanish dance. A moving picture entitled "Americans All," showing the relationship of ourselves with Latin American countries, concluded the program.

F. F. A. Members Win Porky Prizes

The F. F. A. held its annual essay contest last week. The winners of this contest will receive a gilt, and the boys in turn will give a gilt each from litters produced next year so that the contest may continue from year to year.

The title of the essay was, "The Part That Food Plays in the Winning of the War and the Peace That Follows." The winners are David Keesling, Bob Knowles, Eugene Baker, and Gutto Spanize.

This contest is sponsored annually by Sears Roebuck and company.

Tower May Be Added To Observation Post

The members of the Observation Post, under Chief Observer C. P. Klassen, held a meeting May 16 to find out how many of the students will be available for duty during the summer.

Mr. Klassen informed them that the post would be manned mostly by adults during the next few weeks because of the fact that most of the students are seniors who will be out for graduation practice.

The organization is now making plans to build a tower over the post to enable the observers to locate planes more easily. It is very difficult to see planes flying low to the north because of the trees.

Seniors Sneak On Bicycles

Just after the crack o' dawn Monday morning a throng of students pedaled away from school on bicycles of all ages and brands. A few cars laden with food and faculty advisers went along. All were headed for Alum Rock Park and a day of fun.

Today, except for sun burn, sore muscles, and one or two slightly upset stomachs, Monday is but a memory. Senior Sneak Day, 1943, is over.

State and Service Take Many Grads

San Jose State college and the armed forces will claim a large proportion of the graduates of '43, according to figures released this week by Miss Helen Nielsen, senior counselor. The figures resulted from a questionnaire circulated among members of the senior class.

Of the 114 seniors 26 have indicated that they will enter State next fall, while 28 expect to be going into the service by that time. Other colleges will take three of the graduates; business schools will claim eight; and nurses' training will enroll four Campbell girls.

Forty-three members of the class plan to go to work immediately after graduation, twenty in offices, six on farms, and seventeen in defense industries.

Two members of the class include marriage in their plans for the immediate future.

Sugar for Canning

Sugar for nome canning can be obtained by using stamps 15 and 16 in War Ration Book 1, beginning May 24. Each stamp may be used to obtain five pounds of sugar. Housewives may apply at local boards for supplementary sugar rations for home canning, if essential.

People's Responsibility

Eight billion dollars of the 13 billion dollars in this Second War Loan Drive must come from non-banking sources, so the responsibility for the bulk of this 13-billion-dollar drive rests with the American public.

Indications are that Americans generally need only to be reminded of this responsibility and how much they should lend their government in order to reach this goal. Americans are backing up their fighting men on the battle fronts. They are supporting the Second War Loan. "They give their lives . . . You lend your money."

WOMEN AT WAR

Leonora

Leonora straightened the objects on her desk with great care. She had put her desk at the end of her room facing the door so that when her mother came in she would have to cross the whole room under Leonora's stern executive eye to get to her. From movies and pictures in the newspapers Leonora had gotten a good idea of how the desk of a busy woman of affairs should look.

With an important scowl, Leonora picked up a sheet of paper. Now she was two people — herself, the busy woman, and her own stenographer. "Miss Simpkins, take a letter to the Secretary of the Treasury, will you?" she murmured under her breath. "Yes, immediately," she murmured back at herself.

Leonora cleared her throat and looked at the ceiling for inspiration. Miss Simpkins bent over the sheet of paper hanging on the words about to fall.

"Dear Mr. Morgenthau," — "Got that?" — "Yes, madam."

"I am—ahem—thirteen years old and anxious to be of all possible service to the country at this time, ahem!

"I earn a weekly income of from $1.37 to $2.12 by helping with the housework and by shovelling snow. I am at present in possession of one War Savings Bond and am buying stamps weekly. I want to become a member of the 10 percent Club. I feel it to be—ahem—not only my duty, but my privilege" ("How do you spell privilege?" asked Miss Simpkins. "Don't bother me with these details," said Leonora)—my privilege as an American to invest at least ten percent of my income in War Bonds.

Yours truly,"

"Get that off at once, Miss Simpkins," said Leonora. "Yes, Ma'am!. You certainly are an important woman, ma'am," said Miss Simpkins.

TO OUR WOMEN

(Bless 'em)

They're really getting in Hitler's Hair!

MAYBE they're not pulling the trigger that fires the gun but they're doing about everything else. High in the Sierra, a woman has just qualified as an operator of a giant hydro-electric power plant so she can take her husband's place.

A little white-haired grandmother is doing her bit converting old wool into lap robes for wheelchair patients.

A young mother is caring for a neighbor's children so the neighbor can finish a research project important to the war effort.

A stenographer is working evenings in a hospital as a Nurse's Aid.

These are America's fighting women! Not merely the few doing brave, spectacular things, but all the millions of more or less untrained, inexperienced women cheerfully nerving themselves to jobs and responsibilities they never dreamed would be theirs!

Nobody can thank them; they wouldn't want it. But we can all say, you're making grand soldiers!... and more power to you in all the new things you are undertaking every day.

IN THIS COMPANY women are helping tremendously to keep up the steady flow of kilowatts vital to war production.

In additon to operating a power house—and a substation—women are serving as field clerks on construction crews, draftswomen, mappers, warehouse helpers, photographers, meter readers, truck and bus drivers, laboratory technicians, and in hundreds of more conventional jobs.

The saying, "We couldn't win without them!" most certainly applies to the women of the electric industry.
